To: Our Valued Customers,

As you know, over the last several months the industry has seen tremendous pressure on raw materials and associated component parts. Though we have been able to offset a portion of these increases through strategic purchasing and productivity initiatives, we must announce a price increase. The new price increase will reflect a change of 6-8%.

New pricing will be effective on all orders placed after April 29, 2011

Pilot Clamps will not be going up at this time.

We appreciate your business, and your continued support.

Sincerely,

Michael Cooper
